COLLISIONS ON TWO RAILROADS.

COLLISIONS ON TWO RAILROADS.

When the express freight train from Boston, due at the Harlem River station of the New-York, New-Haven and Hartterd Railroad about half-past 4 o'clock yesterday morning, reached New-Rochelle, it was discovered that James Mahoney, a brakeman, who had charge of the second car, was missing from his post, although his lighted lamp was in its sual place. Information was given to Mr. Wyman, conductor of the milk train which left this city at 6 a.m., with a request that he would look out on his way castward for the missing man, who had last been seen at Stamford. In the meattime three tramps, who had been walking down the road from Stamford, found Mahoney lying, between the two tracks between Cos Cob and Greenwich with several ugly wounds on his head. The tramps removed him out of the way of further miury and covered his head with a handkerchef. They then gave information to the station agent at Greenwich. When the milk train reached Greenwich. Onductor Wyman was informed where Mohoney was. After sending his rear prakeman back to flag an express freight train from Harlem River, then only ten minutes behind him, Wyman divided his train, and with a few cars started up the road to find the injured brakeman. By the time the flagman had affixed a torpedo to one of the rails of the up track and reached a sharp curve in the road a short distance below Greenwich, an express freight train, comprising twenty-six heavily laden cars, came along at full speed. As there is a considerable down grade at that point, it was found impossible to stop the train in time to avert a coilision with that part of the milk train which had been left standing on the track. The passengers who were in the car attached to the milk train were warned by the whistles blow light in time to save themselves. A moment afterward to her own puppies. the engineer of the freight train, and got out ju there engineer of the regign train, and got afterward time to save themselves. A moment afterward there was a great crash. Several cars of the milk train were telescoped and nearly demolished, while others were badly damaged, as was also the engine of the freight train, No. 48, of which F. B. Gates Was the engineer.

Mr. Moody, the superindent of the road, was informed of the accident, and a wrecking train was sent to the scene of the disaster, arriving there about 9 o'clock. In about an nour and a half the track was cleared of obstructions, and the crippied engine and the injured cars were on their way to the repair shops. In the meantime Mahoney had been removed to the station at Greenwich, where Dr. Sylvester Mead, or that village, dressed his wounds. There were three or four on the head, besteds some slight ones about the face. One of his ears was almost cut off. He was suffering from a concussion of the brain and was still in a state of niconsciousness. The physician had no hopes of his recovery. Mahoney was born at Springfield, Mass, He is a single man, about thirty years old, and since his employment on the road, a sort time ago, has boarded in New-Haven.

CORA LENT'S ABDUCTOR NOT ARRESTED. CORA LENT'S ABDUCTOR NOT ARRESTED.

Cora Lent had nothing to add yesterday to the somewhat contradictory and rather vague stories told by her to her parents ou the day before. She could only be seen by members of her family and intimate friends. To a Tribunk reporter who saw him in Peckskill yesterday Mr. Lent said that he attributed the return of his daughter wholly to the publicity given to her disappearance by the newspapers, and he expressed his gratuide for their assistance. When asked if, the case would be pressed against Rosenheim, Mr. Lent could not say.

"Is your daughter ready to go into court and answer that Rosenheim betrayed her?" asked the reporter.

er. I don't know that she is," was the reply

"I don't know that she is," was the reply,
"Rosenneim is well advertised now, ned it will follow him wherever he goes."

Deputy Sheriff Mable, of Peckskill, who arrested Corporal Jones, and who came to New-York with the warrant for the arrest of A cher and Rosenheim, said that he did not believe that the case would be pressed against Rosenheim. Folice Justice Baxter, who issued the warrant for Rosenheim's arrest, was of the epimon that in case he should be arrested it would be hard to make a case against him.

The statement that the citizens of Peekskill feel unkindly toward the 22d Regiment, because of one black sheep among haif a thousand men, is apparently unwarranted and does injustice alike to the soldiers of New-York and the citizens of Peekskill. On the con-rary, the kindest feeling prevails toward the different regiments which were at the State Camp, and the generally excellent conduct of the men when they visited the vullage is spoken of with admiration by those whose opinious are worth regarding.

WISHING TO INCREASE THEIR FORCE.

WISHING TO INCREASE THERE FORCE.

The Fire Commissioners yesterday appeared before Mayor Grace and Controller Campbeil to ask for an increased appropriation for the department for the remainder of the year. The Commissioners want to increase the force in the lower part of the city. President Gorman presented the application, giving some statistics in support of it. There are now, he said, 1,031 men in the uniformed force of the department, formed into 65 companies, of which 56 are located below. One-hundred-and-thirtieth-st. the department, formed into 65 companies, of which 56 are located below One-hundred-and-thriticth-st. The number of engines and hook and ladder companies below Fifty-ninth-st. is the same now as in 1865, aithough there has been a large increase in the population of the district and in the number of houses. Under laws passed in 1871 forty firemen are detailed at the theatres every night during the theatrical season, while fitteen men are required for use in the Bureau of Buildings. The average number of men on the sick list is about thirty a day. The number of men on duty at all times averages nine in each company. When two or three large fires break out simultaneously companies have to be taken from their districts, which are in this way left unprotected. Mr. Gorman said that there should be an extra engine and men and horses enough to operate it in every engine-house below Thirty-fourth-st. Such an increase would give to every company two engines, three officers and seventeen men. The Commissioners, however, ask only for the remainder of this year a sum necessary to make the increase in Engine Companies Nos. 1, 5, 12, 13, 19, 20, 27, and 34, and Hook and Ladder Companies Nos. 3 and 5. All those companies are stationed below Thirty-fourth-st. The expense during the remainder of the year would be $84,818.

The Controller and the Mayor expressed themselves as favorably impressed with the statement and it will be brought up before the Board of Estimate and Apportionment at the next meeting. The Controller said it was questionable whether there was any money available for the purpose.

THE INTERNATIONAL MIRITARY MATCH.

THE INTERNATIONAL MILITARY MATCH.

General G. W. Wingste, General S. R. Smith, of Connecticut; Colonel J. O. P. Burnside, of Washington; Colonel H. G. Litchield, U. S. A., and Colonels J. G. Story and George D. Scott, the committee on the selection of the American team for the international military match, to be shot at Creedineor in September, met at No. 312

Broadway yesterday. The new Hotchkiss military rifle, manufactured by the Winchester Arms Company, was inspected. It was resolved that the committee should go to Creedineor to-day to test the Hotchkiss, the Remington and other military rifles submitted to them. The committee will be at Creedineor on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, during the competitions for the selection of the team.

Colonel David E. Austen, of the 13th Regiment, National Guard, in sending $100 to the fund for meeting the expenses of the match here and at Wimbiedon in 1883, accompanies it with a letter, in which he says: "Every organization of the National Guard of the country should consider it a part of its duty to aid the National Rifle Association in receiving and entertaining the English team on the occasion of their visit to this country. In behalf of the Board of Officers of the 13th Regiment, I trust you will accept the inclosed check for $100 as a small contribution to be applied for that purpose, I have also the honor to tender the services of the 13th Regiment as escort to the team, in New-York and Brooklyn. We of the 13th, perhaps, more fully appreciate what is due to those representatives of the fatheriand, from having visited Montreal a few years since, when we were received with distinguished consideration by the militia treal a few years since, when we were received with distinguished consideration by the militia

Other contributions were received as follows: Hatch & Foote, $-\pi$: Charles Pratt & Co., $50; Charles Delmonto, $50; Martin B. Brown, $25; and General I. Stanon, $10.

BOUND TO RAISE A LARGE FAMILY. One of the pets in the Mulberry Street Poince Station is a dog named Kate, which recently has exhibited a curious fondness for the offspring of other animals. She is a built errier, white and sleek and unusually intelligent. About two weeks ago she became the proud mother of three puppies. One of them died last week and Kate mourned for it, until she discovered that a cat in the yard had two kittens

A SKIRMISH AT THE BATTERY.

Sørgeant Flock and his corporal's guard of Park policemen were afforded a little variation from the monotony of guard duty at the Battery Park vesterday about hoof. Another movement was made toward the erection of the new station proposed by the Manhattan Company, and opposed by everybody else except Park Commissioner Lane. A foreman, with a large gang of men carrying ticks and shovels and a heavy pole to be used as a derrick, apparently, suddenly appeared, followed by a promiscuous crowd of spectators and citizens of in the state of the parental shout the pole, and were throwing up the gravel and getting their derrick in position when the sergeant and his men approached at a double-quick and stopped them. The foreman stated that they were enaptoyed by the telegraph company, and had been directed to remove the pole to a position further down Battery-place, to accommodate the Elevated Kailway Company, who had selected the spot as a site for their new station. The men had no permit from any of the city authorities and the sergeant refused to let them proceed. A pairolman of the Manienjal police stood footing meconicenedity on, and only after Sergeaut Flock's strong hint did he compel the workmen to replace the also compelled the men to remove their derrick.

The Park policemen now at the Battery are obliged to be on duty eighteen hours a day, and have been there since August 2, when the Elevated Railway demanders at the police stood footing meconicenedity on the park police here hours a day, and have been there since August 2, when the Elevated Railway demanders had been there since August 2, when the Elevated Railway demanders had been there since August 2, when the Elevated Railway demanders had a tempted to take possession. LONG ISLAND CITY'S WATER SUPPLY.

The failure of the water supply of Long Island City at the recent are at Humer's Point has resulted in an investigation of the galaxis of the Water Department by which many new facts have been brought to light. On September 19, 1881, a contract was made with Messes, Tichenon's Safford to dignew wells, by which an additional supply of 2,000,000 gallons of water daily was to be secured for the sum of $15,000. It was agreed by the members of the Water Board that when 1,000,000 gallons were secured the contractors should receive an advance of $2,500. In November of the same year Messes, Tichenor & Safford informed the Water Board that they had procured the extra supply of 1,000,000 gallons. A fest was made by the Unicf Engineer of the Department, and the statement of the contractors was declared to be correct. The mency was accordingly paid over to them, and the city was supposed from this time, November 28, LONG ISLAND CITY'S WATER SUPPLY. mency was accordingly particle of the was supposed from this time. November 28 1881, to the present, to be in daily receipt of 1,600,000 gailons of water. An examination of the books of the Water Board shows that from July 1 to July 31, 1882, the highest amount recorded as pumped from both the webs that were guarantee. pumped from both the wells that were guaranteed to furnish 1,000,000 gallous, and the old one, which was elected with yielding 600,000 gallous a day, was 1,155,354 gallous. For sixteen days, however, in the month, the supply ranged from 800,000 to 900,000 gallons a day. It is now claimed in the city, particularly by Alderman P. J. Gleason, that the money paid to Mesers. Fuchenor & Saltorid was given to them without justification. He asserts that there should be a daily supply of 1,600,000 from the wells.

from the wells,
"But the fact that there is not," said Alderman Giesson yesterday, "is evidence of fraud somewhere, and I intend to unearth it. The city paid $2,500 for 1,000,000 galions of water, which is not being supplied. Either the centractors must give us back that amount, or suft the consequences. The city shall not be cheated if I can help it."

A FINE VIEW IN PROSPECT PARK.

A FINE VIEW IN PROSPECT PARK.

During these clear summer days the prospect from Lockout that in Prospect Park, Brooklyn, is most lively, and daily entices thousands of visitors, on loct and in carriage, as the ascent is not difficult for cither. Not only the City of Brooklyn, but New-York and Jersey City lay mapped out before the eye. The shipping at anchor in both rivers and the bay may be clearly distinguished on a cloudless day. On the north the eye can reach as far as some of the villages which line the porth shore, and the broad expanse of Long Island Sound is lest in the distance on one side, while on the eye can reach. All the score or two or points or interest at Coney Island may be discerned, while the big hotel at Rockaway appears to be big even at that distance. No more beautiful lounging-place than the hill itself is to be found near the city. And besides, as Mr. Lincoln once said of his prairie home, one has the satisfaction of feeling that on this hill he knows he is "in the exact centre of the whole universe, for the horizon appears to settle down evenly all around him."

afternoon by the groans of a young woman who was seated on the sidewalk at Grand-st, and the Howery. She said that she was Mrs. Annie Shoenheit, ago inneteen, of No. 62 Goerek-st. Her husband, Charles, who was a fireman on board of one of the Old Dominion steamers, had knoeked her down and kicked her in Christopher-st. The vessel was to sail at 3 p. m., and as he had been drunk she had tollowed aim to the North River to make sure that he did not lose his place by being late. Annoyed at her conduct, he attacked her in a brutal manner and then had gone toward the vessel. She had started for home, but had been overcome by the pain resulting from her injuries. The police sent her to the Chambers Street Hospital. It was then too late to arrest her husband. At the hospital it was said last evening that Mrs. Schoenheit had not been injuried seriously.

ELEVATED RAILWAY MEN AT A PICNIC. The employes of the Manhattan Elevated Railway Company held their annual summer-night's testival in Suizer's Hariem River Park last evening. The grounds were neatly arranged for the entertainment. At dark the entire park was illuminated with electric hights and overy place of annisement was gay with the merrymakers, recehoing lauguter and snouts of glee at the novel enjoyment. The time for beginning the dancing in the large hai was 7 o'clock, but it was after 8 o'clock before the music under Professor Mitthauer struck up the opening march. By this time there were nearly a music under Professor Mitthauer struck up the opening march. By this time there were nearly a thousand persons in the garden. The arrangements were under the direction of President R. R. Bock. Vice-President W. D. Acker and R. C. Buttle, secretary and treasurer. Later in the evening the hall became filled with gayly dressed women and their partners. Vice-President Acker said that about 20,000 tickets had been issued by the employes, and he believed that the fund of the employes would be increased between $400 and $500.

GOSPEL MEETINGS STOPPED BY FIRE. GOSPEL MEETINGS STOPPED BY FIRE.

The Gospel tent of the Baptist City Mission in Second-ave, between Nineteenth and Twentieth-sts., was nearly destroyed by fire at 9 a. m. yesterd by It was placed in position by May 28, and mightly prayer-meetings have been held under it since then under the direction of the Key, hartwell Pratt. Most of the meetings have been well attended. The tent was lighted by kerosene oil tamps. Thomas Taverner, an employe of the Mission Society, was cleaning the lamps when one of them exploded and set fire to the canvas. An alarm was sent out, but before the firemen attived some passers-by had belped Taverner to pull the tent down and trample out the flames. About half of the canvas was destroyed and some camp-stools were injured. The damage was estimated at $200. Two residents of a town in Massachusetts own the tent, which was not insured. It was said that another tent would be procured immediately for the use of the society.

HER DEATH FULFILLING A PROPHECY. Mrs. Jacob M. Newman died yesterday at the age of thirty, at her home in Fresh Kill, S. I. It is claimed that many years ago it was prophesied by an old fortune-teller that she would die in her thirtieth year. Her mother and sister declare that just before sunrise they saw a shadow come into the room through a window and hover over the bed where Mrs. Newman lay dying. It remained only a few seconds after which Mrs. Newman was found to be dead.

A THIEF AND HIS CONFEDERATE HULD.
A gold watch and chain, value dat $150, and $65 in money, were stolen from the waistoot of Abraham Resenberger, a liquor dealer at No. 341 addowst, on Monday night, by Simon Harris. Detectives Hess and Wade, of the Tenth Precinct, traced the watch to Nos. 32 and 34 John-st., where it had been purchased by A Latner, a jeweller, for $50, from John Philips, of No. 208 East Seventh-st., who had acreed to sell if for the thief for a consideration. All three men were taken in custody, and an examination in the case was held by Justice Kilbreth, in the Essex Market Police Court, yesterday afternoon, which resulted in the discharge of Latner. Harris and Philips were held without ball for trial in General sessions.

REUNITED IN A POLICE COURT.

Peter Clark and his wife Edith went on a pienic on thursday to High Bridge for a day's pleasure. They retarned to Harlem in the evening and Poter having drank too much beer refused to go home, and was left at Obehandred-ami-twenty-eight-st, and Third-ave, by als wife. A few moments later he occupied a cell in the One-ard-twenty-sixth Street Police Station. Filled with remerse, his wife took him a samptaous supper and then started homeward. She only got as far as Yorkville, where size drowned her sorrow in beer and was lodged in the Eighty-eighth Street Police Station. Husband and wife met in the Harlem Police Court yesterday. The wife wept while Peter searched his pockets for $10 to pay his fine, but he could only find half that amount. Justice Murray finally consented to accept this and the regulated couple went on their way rejoicing.

JERSEY CITY.

A woman, who gave her name as Agnes Osborne and who is evidently demented, attempted to jump overboard at the Pavonia Ferry on Thursday night. She was prevented and taken to the police station. From her talk it is interred that she has been an inmate of the limite asylum at Snake. Hill, and she will be sent back.

The body of a man, which has not been identified, was found yesterday afternoon in the gap near Washburn's brickyard, in Jersey-ave, and was taken to the Morgue. It was about thirty years old, had light har and mousache, and was dressed in checked shirt, diagonal cloth trousers and Con-gress gatters. It is about five and a haif feet high WESTCHESTER COUNTY.

DIFFERENT NATIONALITIES BATHING.

A woman who is a keeper at the Battery free swimming-bath recently told a Thribual reporter that one of the curious facts about the bathers was the change in nationalities at different hours. "First come the Italians," said she, " at about 5 o'clock in the morning. Crowds are waiting at the time the bath is to be opened. The women make a curious appearance, as they all wear earrings and several pieces of queer jewelry hung about their necks. They all want the brightest-colored bathing-suits, and so we have come to call the gorgeous-looking suits 'Italian suits.' The Italians are of a queer color, not black or brown or red, but a kind of leather color. But the Italian women are terrible at stealing suits. Toward noon a good many Irish people come to the baths, and they form generally the most hilarious company. Many of them are excellent swimmers, too. Just after noon is a favorite time for the German women. They are not great swimmers, but they will loat like Noah's Ark; and the tide always rises when they go in. Americaos, as far as we can judge, come in the early forenoon or the late afternoon. They are the most quiet people, and give us the least trouble.

"At about 4:30 and 7:30 p. m. are the busiest

"At about 4:30 and 7:30 p. m. are the busiest hours, the latter being the time for working girls, but the bath is always big enough to hold all that come. It is a conical sight to see a timid woman go in the water. She stands about the platform in her bathing suit for a while, shivering, and watching the others. Then she walks down the steps and puts one foot in the water and draws it out and screams softly. She always says the water is cold. By-and-by-she gets both feet in the water and then she sits down on the steps and acts as if she was trying to fill her lap with water; dipping it up with her hands and gradually drenching herself. After a little while she may splash the water as high as her shoulders. If she is a very timid woman this is as far as she gets. She goes home and tells her friends what a nice swim she had at the Battery. A mischievous companion will sometimes push one of these timid women into the water and cure her of her fear. But most of the women swim and dive with as much fearlessness 'At about 4:30 and 7:30 p. m. are the busiest women swim and dive with as much fearlessness and agility as men."

WORST PLACE IN THE WORLD.

Perhaps you are not roing to the Gold Coast of Africa.

But you may go this summer among malaria and other cults which may be almost as bad as on the African Coast. The effects of the malarious atmosphere are terribly prostrating, and sometimes deadly. Even in these the most nappy relief has been produced by PRERY DAYES PAIN KILLEL. Don't forget to pack in your satichel abottle of it. Captain P. D.
Yates, who has commanded several vessels in the African trade, says he used it among his men, and among the natives too, with the happiest results. Can't afford to be without it.
